

Peter Malek translated Informed consent form into Dinka, and explained all the points of it to Ködök. Please see accompanying recordings for recorded informed consent given by Ködök (Language of communication on the recording - Dinka).

Informed consent form

I, Ködök Chan Amal, agree to participate in this recording session on Dinka. I understand that these data are collected in order to study the language. I also understand that the results may be made public – in journals, books, and other forms, including via the internet. I give consent for the recordings of my voice to be made public, for example in an electronic resource on the internet and in a recording archive. This research is being conducted by the Nilotic Prosody project (University of Edinburgh), in collaboration with Peter Malek.

I am aware that it is my right to stop with the session at any point, should I decide that I no longer want to continue.

In any kind of publication based on these data:

- ~~I do not want my name to be disclosed;~~
- I would prefer to be acknowledged by name for my contribution.

[choose one by encircling your preference or crossing out the alternative]

Signature:	Date:	Place: Juba
	24/8/09	Juba - Sudan